Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Frank Muller aged 32 years, of Van Voorhis, was seriously cut about the head and neck, and George McCultry, aged 30 years, of Bentleyville, was badly injured about the chest when a Dodge coupe, in which the men were riding, crashed into a cement retaining wall on the Bentleyville-Beallsville pike two miles from Bentleyville, and overturned.

Muller, owner of the machine, was driving at the time of the accident, and was pinned at the wheel when the car rounded a sharp curve and crashed into the wall before he could stop the car. McCultry was thrown against the windshield and suffered several slight bruises and serious injury to the chest.

Muller was cut so badly that he was prostrated from loss of blood. Both men were given medical attention, Muller being the more seriously hurt. The machine was not badly damaged.

Two Ford touring cars crashed on the Riverview-Finleyville road yesterday morning about 11 o'clock and Mrs. George Cravash, of Manown, was slightly injured when she was thrown from the rear seat of one machine against the front seat. She suffered bruises about the head and body. The name of the driver of the other machine could not be secured. The accident occurred near Lank Hill, one mile from Finleyville at a dangerous turn.

WAGNER LEADS SECTION FIVE

With the W. P. I. A. L. basketball season about half emptied, unofficial field goal records of the various sections have been compiled, and although in some sections they are incomplete, because certain box scores have not been available, they show some interesting things.

In Section Five, Wagner, of the Charleroi team, leads with 20 field goals. Kent of Monessen, is a close second with 18. Sheppard 9, White 8, Anthony 7, Hazelbaker 3, Craft and Johns 1 each.

Wilson's Father Once A Pastor In The County

The late President Wilson, like the late President Warren G. Harding, had a historical connection with Washington county. The latter was descended from a pioneer Washington county family, many members of which still reside here.

Woodrow Wilson's father was Rev. Joseph Ruggles Wilson, who was graduated from Jefferson college with the class of 1844 and, after completing his theological course at Princeton theological seminary, became pastor of the Chartiers (Hill) Presbyterian church near Canonsburg, his first charge.

He was located there for three years and during that time was also professor of rhetoric in Jefferson college. Leaving there he went to Hampden-Sidney college, and in 1855 went to Staunton, Va., as pastor of the Presbyterian church. Woodrow Wilson was born in Staunton, Va., December 28, 1856, five years after his father left this county.

Dr. Joseph R. Wilson was a native of Steubenville, O., and his wife was a daughter of Rev. Dr. Thomas Woodrow for whom Woodrow Wilson, their first born, was named.

While Mr Wilson was president he learned that the old side-saddle which his mother used while they were at the Hill church was still in the possession of one of the members of the church and he expressed a desire to have it. The owner, Mr. Lyons, at once sent it to the then President with his complemnts.

DeMarco And Rice To Meet In Tube City

One of the most interesting fistic engagements of the season is anticipated by patrons of the Majestic club of McKeesport, near Tube City, when Cuddy DeMarco tackles Frankie Rice, Baltimore junior lightweight, in the 10-round main bout of the club's weekly show.

Rice is a Hebrew, and was born in 1902. Despite his youth he has had a long ring experience and has an impressive record. He has scored close to 50 knockouts and among his victims are some well known lads. All of his knockouts have been landed within five rounds, showing that he possesses a real punch.

He has kayoed Willie Ames, Johnny Tyman, Yong Erne and Kno kout Circus, and more than 40 others. He has also won over Harry Kid Brown, Willie Kohler, Dutch Brand, and others, and has fought Johnny Dundee Willie Jackson, Andy Chaney and a number of other leading lights.

Rice's last battle was with Sid Terrid, whom he defeated. About six months ago Rice and DeMarco met in Baltimore, the outcome being a fast draw.

Both lads have been seeking a chance at each other ever since that meeting, and they will get it next Thursday in the Tube City. They have agreed to make 135-pounds at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, a weight that will permit both to enter the ring strong.

The club is arranging an attractive list of preliminaries, and each bout will show two well matched lads against each other. Boxing in the Tube City is going strong now, and this week's show is expected to attract a big throng of fans.

NEWEST INDUSTRY IS GROWING OF CHRISTMAS TREES

Lake Pocono, Feb 4. — (United Press) —The newest industry in this section of the state is the growing of Christmas trees for the market, and it is said that within a few years the forests of Maine and Canada will not be called upon to furnish Christmas trees to this section at all.

George Wagner, who for 27 years has been a wholesaler of Christmas trees, cutting them in the Monroe county section until the supply ran so short that he had to import them from Canada, has started a Christmas tree "farm" near here and will make his first cuttings this year.

Wagner has 71,000 trees, he says, and he will plant 21,000 more this spring to replace those he intends to cut next Christmas. He has had great success in growing balsam spruce and other first, he said. Wagner started his nursery six years ago and is backed by his son, a Cornell forestry graduate.

This year they will experiment by planting 5,000 Colorado blue spruce, a very ornamental and expensive tree. Wagner has bought up considerable land near here and will enlarge his tract from time to time.

ROYALIST PLOT TO PUT CYRIL ON RUSSIAN THRONE

London Feb 4—(U. P.)—A royalist conspiracy to place Grand Duke Cyril on the Russian throne has branches in London and many continental cities and is also said to have agents in the United States.

The affairs of the organization are admittedly directed by the Grand Duke Cyril from his office in Paris and his vila at Nice.

Recently Cyril circulated a proclamation promising control of land by the peasants and liberty of voting power for all workers in Russia.

The agent for the royalists conspiracy in England is M. Thaddee Wiltchinsky, who outlined the royalist plans as follows.

"We want to overthrow Bolshevism and establish conditions which will enable every man to record his vote without fear of Bolshevist oppression."

DONORA TOO MUCH FOR THE LOCALS

On Saturday night at the local high school gymnasium Donora High School for the second time during the present school year upset the calculations of the Charleroi High School team and supporters. The score was 21-7.

The game was rough at times but it was the close guarding of the entire Donora team that really featured if there was any feature to the game. Charleroi was held to three field goals two by Shepard and one by Anthony, while Donora succeeded in caging twice that many.

The Charleroi boys team plays two games on foreign floors this week. On Tuesday they will meet Californ High School in a return game at California and on Saturday they will journey to Waynesburg to play a return game with Waynesburg High School.

On Thursday night of this week in the high school gymnasium the Charleroi girls will stack up against the strong Duquesne High School team. The Duquesne girls who were defeated here last season are reported to be much stronger this season, so a thrilling game should result.

The lineup:

Charleroi—17		Donora—21
Wagner	F	McCleary
White	F	Gress
Anthony	C	Marockovitch
Shepard	G	Frielander
Hill	G	McAlpine

Substitutions: Charleroi Loughead for Wagner; Wagner for Anthony; Johns for Hill.

Scoring: Charleroi Field goals—Shepard 2, Anthony 1. Fouls—Wagner 6 out of 8, White 2 out of 4, Shepard 3 out of 5, Hill 0 out of 2.

Donora Field Goals—McCleary 2, Gress 3, Marockovitch 3. Fouls—McCleary 1 out of 1, Gress 2 out of 8, Marockovitch 1 out of 3, Frielander 1 out of 2.—Referee Buck Snyder.

SHOOTING CAUSES BAD FEELING

Joe Defillipo, An Italian, Who Wounded Ray Bell, Taken to Washington When Crowd Surrounds Lockup In California

CAUSE IS INFINITESMIAL

Bell Claims He Steps, Accidentally, On the Foot of Defillipo —Latter Is Charged With Felonious Assault And Battery, With Intent to Kill

Bitter feeling which prevailed following the shooting of Harry Bell, aged about 21, by Joe Defillipo, aged about 35, East Pike Run township Italian, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning and which was manifested by a crowd of more than 50 persons surrounding the lockup at California, resulted in Defillipo being taken to the Washington county jail last night.

While there has been no outbreak of any kind, feeling between Italians and Americans in the crowd and threats repeated by some of the members resulted the authorities of California taking the action.

The shooting, in which Bell was shot in the fleshy part of his right leg, occurred in the heart of the business district of California. Bell was walking along the street when he met some Italians. He stepped, accidentally, he claimed, on the foot of one of the members.

Angered, the Italian struck Bell, and Bell retaliated by knocking him to the street with a blow. Defillipo then is claimed to have taken part by drawing a revolver.

"I shoot you," Defillipo is said to have exclaimed as he started toward Bell with his weapon drawn. He pulled the trigger once but the cartridge was not discharged. Realizing that the Italian was in earnest, Bell started to run but Defillipo pulled the trigger again, the bullet striking Bell in the leg.

A California policeman was near the scene when the trouble started and immediately placed Defillipo under arrest and placed him in the California jail. He was charged with felonious assault and battery with intent to kill, before Justice of the Peace George W. Wood.

Cars Smashed Up Yesterday By Slippery Condition of Street

Automobilists attempting to descend the grade from Crest avenue to the downtown districts yesterday met with trouble, inasmuch as the condition of the streets was so slippery that five machines were telescoped at Seventh street and Lincoln avenue and pretty badly smashed up. Fortunately, none of the occupants of the cars was injured. Burgess David R. Duvall had the street roped off at 8 o'clock last night, thus precluding further accidents.

Yesterday morning at 4 o'clock, F. A. Vinsani, 1010 Meadow avenue, ran into a standing car in the roadway near Charleroi, he not seeing the machine owing to the dusk of the early morning. Vinsani's car was badly smashed up, but the man escaped with bruises, and was not seriously injured.

COOLIDGE'S TRIBUTE TO EX-PRESIDENT

(BY THE UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Feb. 3.—President Coolidge's proclamation on the death of Woodrow Wilson follows:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A Proclamation:

To the people of the United States:

The death of Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States from March 4, 1913, to March 4, 1921, which occurred at 11:15 o'clock today at his home at Washington, District of Columbia, deprives the country of a most distinguished citizen, and is an event which causes universal and genuine sorrow. To many of us it brings the sense of a profound personal bereavement.

His early profession as a lawyer was abandoned to enter academic life. In this chosen field he attained the highest rank as an educator, and has left his impress on the intellectual thought of the country.

From the presidency of Princeton University he was called by his fellow citizens to be the Chief Executive of the State of New Jersey. The duties of his high office he so conducted as to win the confidence of the people of the United States, who twice elected him to the Chief Magistracy of the Republic.

As President of the United States he was moved by an earnest desire to promote the best interests of the country as he conceived them. His acts were prompted by high motives and his sincerety of purpose can not be questioned. He led the Nation through the terrific struggle of the World War with a lofty idealism which never failed him. He gave utterance to the aspiration of humanity with an eloquence which held the attention of all the earth and made America a new and enlarged influence in the destiny of mankind.

In testimony of the respect in which his memory is held by the Government and the people of the United States, I do hereby direct that the flags of the White House and of the several departmental buildings be displayed at half-staff for a period of 30 days, and that suitable military and naval honors under orders of the Secretary of War and of the Secretary of the Navy may be rendered on the day of the funeral.

Done at the City of Washington this Third Day of February, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-eighth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

By the President.

MELLON PLAN AND DEMOCRATS

John W. Davis and Martin W. Littleton are not the only Democrats who favor the Mellon tax reduction plan, or at least want to be sure that their party leaders have something better to offer. For example, the New Orleans Picayune, referring to the substitute proposals, asks: "Do they meet the test of intelligent analysis? That question is in general avoided by their proponents. The folks at home must insist that it be answered." The Montgomery (Ala.) Congress "should realize that they are not going to promote the chances of the Democratic nominee by shaping the course of the Democratic party to meet the approval of the radical leaders." And the Cecil County (Md.) News objects to what it fears is an attempt to defeat in Congress the Mellon plan of tax reduction simply because it is fathered by Republicans.

From time out of mind there has been so much criticism of the "ins" by the "outs", with partisanship as the only or main object, that suspicion of the existence of such partisanship is readily awakened. The Democratic journalists quoted may not fully understand a subject that calls for the insight of financial experts, but anybody can understand that the Democrats would be wise to be sure that they have something better to offer before they press their proposals. One of the difficulties of government by parties is that the opposition, instead of heeding the injunction, "be sure you are right and then go ahead," too often acts as if the maxim read—"be right if convenient, but above all be sure that you go ahead." Under our system a strong and critical opposition is desirable, even imperative, but it should be backed by high intelligence and regard for the public good as well as by party policy.

BANDITRY BECOMES GENERAL

French Writer Laments Recent Crime Wave That Has Swept Over France.

Violent crimes are not the monopoly of American gunmen and Barcelona pistoleros.

Figaro (Paris) laments the crime wave that has swept over France recently. Bandits robbed the pay clerks of the Marseilles street railways, killing one and wounding another in broad daylight, and disappearing with 142,000 francs. Another group of bandits slugged and robbed a Paris jeweler in his shop, in broad daylight, when other customers were in the store. A list of similar violent crimes follows. The author comments:

"These robberies and murders, and the criminal bands that commit them, invite certain observations. The first is that their number and their brutality no longer shock the public. Before the war, such criminal gangs as la bande Bonnot were thought extraordinary; today they hardly attract remark.

"We consider brazen jewelers, raiding banks, robbing postoffices, and mysterious murders in the same matter-of-fact way that we regard motor car accidents. They seem to be becoming part of the customs of the

Two Million Lepers.

It is estimated that there are about 2,000,000 lepers in the world, half of whom are in China. The disease appears to be spreading among the natives of Central Africa, but is receding where modern methods of control and cure have been undertaken on any large scale. Science confirms the theory as old as Bible times that the disease is spread by infection, although prolonged exposure to the disease is necessary, and that segregation is one of the most effective methods of treatment. Definite cures in many cases have followed the injection into the veins of the active principle of chalmoogra oil, and it is now being used on an increasing scale. Similar preparations have also been made recently from olive and from linseed oils. As an illustration of what modern sanitation and segregation of cases will accomplish, it is said the number of cases in Norway has been reduced from 2,833 to 140 in sixty years.

All Wrong but the Trombonist.

Popular music today is often so ornamented with irrelevant and impertinent sound from some of the more noisy instruments that no one is astonished if the results are not always harmonious. The band of a small Minnesota town, says the Highway Builder, had just finished a vigorous but not particularly melodious selection. As they sank perspiring to their seats after bowing self-consciously for the applause the trombonist asked hoarsely:

"What's the next one?"

"The Maiden's Prayer," answered the leader, consulting his program.

"Good Heavens!" ejaculated the trombonist. "I just got through playing that one!"

Fairly Put.

"I want a shave," said the determined-looking man as he climbed into a chair in the Coliseum barber shop. "I don't want any bay rum, witch hazel, hair tonic, hot towels or face massage. I don't want the manicure lady to hold my hand nor the bootblack to fondle my feet. I just want a plain shave, with no trimmings. Do you understand that?"

"Yes, sir," said the barber. "Will you have some lather on your face, sir?"—New York Mail.

WOMAN'S ADVENTURES IN CONTENTMENT

"Tar heel born, tar heel bred,
When I'm dead, it's a tar heel dead."

So do the girls of North Carolina sing with gusto. So do they live, work, marry, die, proud of the 98 per cent native-borness of their state. They feel that a big city is no place for those "who ain't went out much, not fur!"

So reports Fronde Kennedy, who has known the Carolinas from the day she was born, "a long time ago," as she says, to the present "office of the dean of women of Trinity college." Her letter carries its own charm:

"I do not know when I began to find my chief delight in the printed page. I can remember lying flat on the floor with my chin cupped in my hands, poring over Lempriere's Classical Dictionary and Swiss Family Robinson impartially before I was ten. as a priceless gift, but it included so small amounts of dollars and cents that the education I was able to secure was pitifully different from what he had kindled in me a desire for. I was fortunate in my course at college to fall under the influence of at least one real scholar, who kept alive in me the flame of intellectual curiosity. At the age of eighteen I had my diploma and was ready to begin teaching. It was necessary that I at least relieve my mother of the expense of my own support, and I did so—on a salary of thirty dollars a month, fifteen of which I paid out for board.

"Probably to some people I seem a good example of a woman who has succeeded in life. I have not, really, in comparison with my own standards and dreams, achieved anything, and yet I concede that I would be most unreasonable and ungrateful not to acknowledge my blessings; and I have many. I am fond of rural life. I like to hear of [illegible] and newly planted gardens, and to watch farmers' almanacs and see how well they hit the weather. I like to go to a millinery opening and sit down with the crowd and advise my friends about the hats they are trying on. I like to 'set a spell' with my friends. So, although I love New York and go whenever I can for a little while, I expect to live in a rural section, preferably in a town of about twenty thousand people. I hope through a green old age!"

Cheaper That Way.

A newly-rich woman, giving her first dinner party and anxious to make it a success, was engaging the services of a certain well-known chef.

"My fee," said the latter, "is twelve guineas."

"I agree to pay that," answered the hostess, "but you understand that you will not meet my guests, don't you?"

"Oh," came the quick reply, "then I will take eight."

Put Politely.

He was a polite man, and did not know what to reply when his pretty partner asked if legs had not got fat. He put his hand to his forehead and replied:

"Yes," he said, "I think I have had the pleasure—and you the experience."—Yorkshire Post.

The Keltic Cross.

The Keltic crosses are such as were found on the Blessed isle, one of the Hebrides group known as Iona. Some authorities believe that the circular symbol, which appears at the connection of the upright beam and the cross beam, is a sign of the sun.

Coal Tar.

Until about the middle of the Nineteenth century coal tar was regarded as a waste product and thrown away or burned under the retorts, but beginning in 1846 its value was discovered and it was first used in Germany for making roofing felt.

U. S. Assayists Accurate.

So accurate is the work of American government assayists that many foreign countries are said to have large deposits of United States coinage bullion in their gold reserve in preference to that of their own manufacture.

The Periscope.

The earliest record of the use of the periscope was on the federal monitor Osage during the Red river expedition in 1864. The instrument was devised by Thomas Daughty, acting chief of engineers of the United States navy.

Low Cunning.

It is a special trick of low cunning to squeeze out knowledge from a modest man who is eminent in any science, and then to use it as legally acquired, and pass the source in total silence.—Horace Walpole.

An Added Burden.

A new burden has been added to the life of house mistresses by the suggestion that servants ought to be provided with uniforms to match the color effects of the rooms in which they happen to be working.

Key to Situation.

Sometimes the key to the situation may be a club. It frequently takes a deadly epidemic to make a community realize the value and importance of adequate public health service.

The Gape Disease.

Recent investigation indicates that chickens contract the gape disease by eating earthworms infected with the larvae of the gapeworm, a parasitic nematod.

Heaping Up Taxes.

In heaping up proposed taxes, no ardent propagandist thinks for a moment that his is going to break the camel's back.

DONORA DAMES EASY FOR THE CHARLEROI GIRLS

The Charleroi High School Girls Basketball team added another victory to their list Saturday evening, when they defeated the Donora High school team on the local floor by a score of 47-8. AMERICAN HOCKEY PLAYERS LOSE TO CANADIANS

Chamonix, France, Feb. 4—(U. P.)—Failing against the mechanical perfection of a truly great team, the American Hockey players lost to Canada, six to one, in the final match for the Olympic championship and the United States dropped to fourth place in the total scoring for the winter games.

One goal by Drury, the Pittsburgh star center, was the only score the Americans were able to make against the spectacular Canadians but the Americans felt they had done well in holding the score down against one of the finest teams that had ever taken the ice.

It was an exceedingly rough match in which both teams were guilty of work not allowed in the rule books. Bad feeling, due to a remark of one of the Canadian players that they would show up the Americans, was shown from the start of the match and it increased in each period.

The Americans played spectacularly and desperately but their best efforts were lost against a team that played as perfect as machine. The pace was terrific and the Americans were almost exhausted at the finish.

Norway still held the lead in total scoring today with 91 1-2 points; Finland was second with 76 1-2; England third with 30, and the United States fourth with 26.

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

Buick "Steps Out From The Field"

In presenting to the public its 1924 models, Buick literally "stepped out from the field."

It is doubtful if automobile history had ever witnessed such an outpouring of interest, comment and admiration as were bestowed upon the new Buicks.

The public instantly recognized that in appearance, construction, mechanical excellence and noteworthy features, the 1924 Buicks established a new standard of measuring motor car value

Particular interest centered upon the 70 H. P. valve-in-head motor—the proved Buick four-wheel brakes—the new body designs and the innumerable other features that contributed so markedly to comfort, safety and driving satisfaction.

The complete line of Buicks—fours and sixes—are an outstanding feature of the Automobile Show.

Buick invites closest inspection and most careful scrutiny of these models. Such procedure coupled with the slightest degree of driving acquaintance—a demonstration will gladly be provided—is sufficient to reveal why Buick continues to be the Standard of Comparison.

West Brownsville Hotels Are Raided; Two Arrests Are The Result of Visit

State police from Brownsville, Washington, and Uniontown, headed by Corporal Beckley of Brownsville, last night raided three hotels in West Brownsville.

At the Starr hotel, Jacob Starr, proprietor, and his bartender, James Curley, were arrested. Before Justice C. E. Eckels they both furnished bail in the sum of $500 each for a hearing to be held this evening.

It is said that liquor was found at the Starr hotel, as well as at the Atwood and Engel. No arrests were made at the latter two places.

SIMPLE RITES TO MARK THE FUNERAL

body of the late president lying in state in the rotunda of the capitol.

The fact that the body is to be placed in the crypt of Washington Cathedral indicates, Grayson stated, that no final decision had yet been made by Mrs. Wilson as to where the former president will be permanently interred. Staunton, Virginia, where Mr. Wilson was born, has been among the places mentioned during the last few days as a possible place of the burial spot.

Just as soon as the storm doors of the Wilson residence had been thrown open early this morning, a steady stream of callers—high government officials, former associates of the late president, family friends and others—began to arrive to leave messages of condolence and sympathy for Mrs. Wilson and Miss Margaret.

Washington, Feb. 4 — (United Press)—A nation's sorrow at the death of Woodrow Wilson was expressed today in the silencing of the wheels of government, flags drooping at half staff and in a proclamation from President Coolidge providing that the highest honors that can be paid shall be accorded the war chieftain of the nation.

Mr Wilson died at 11 15 a m Sunday, while prayers were ascending in the churches for him He simply went to sleep passing from life without a struggle or pain

Arrangements for his funeral awaited today the decision of Mrs. Wilson, who was too exhausted following her long vigil at the bedside to consider yesterday questions regarding the burial and the funeral services.

Her wishes, however, will decide whether Mr. Wilson is to have a great state funeral, with military pomp and ceremony, and with burial in the hallowed ground of Arlington National Cemetery among the nations heroes war dead of all wars If she wishes instead a simple non public funeral and burial in the old home town at Staunton, Virginia, that is what will be done

President Coolidge has put at her disposal the whole machinery of the government He has ordered the war and navy departments to prepare to accord fitting honor to the departed chief

So far as is known, Mr Wilson did not before his death express any preference as to where he should be buried, nor as to the character of his funeral

If therefore, Mrs Wilson accedes to the wishes of the nation's leaders to pay full homage to Mr Wilson, his body probably will be taken to the capitol to lie in state, and then escorted by army and navy detachments be laid to rest with military honors in Arlington

Mrs. Wilson this morning had recovered somewhat from the fatigue of a bedside vigil which lasted practically from Thursday night on She was tired last night almost to the point of illness and Dr Cary T Grayson ordered her to bed, and would questions regarding the funeral arrangements.

John Randolph Bolling and Wilmer Bolling, brothers of Mrs. Wilson, and Joseph Wilson, brother of the late president, will make the funeral arrangements subject to Mrs. Wilson's desires

William G McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo, the latter a daughter of Mr. Wilson are speeding east from California. A telegram from them said they could not reach Washington before ten a m Wednesday

Meanwhile, the capitol today expressed its grief by half masted flags on government buildings and cessation of activities in congress, out of respect to passing of the man who for eight days dominated the government When the senate and house meet at noon, official notice of Mr. Wilson's death will be given and adjournment taken until tomorrow.

After Republican Leader Longworth makes official announcement in the house, Democratic leader Garrett will deliver a brief eulogy on the war time president Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democratic leader in the Senate, will deliver the eulogy in the upper house.

News of the death reached President Coolidge while he was at church He and Mrs Coolidge drove directly to the Wilson home and left their cards.

Mr. Wilson's death had been momentarily expected ever since he became unconscious Saturday night On Sunday when he did not arouse, Dr Grayson issued a bulletin at 10 40 a m, saying that the end was very near

At 11 27 he appeared at the door of the Wilson home with a yellow slip of paper in his hand.

"Mr. Wilson is dead," he said He died at 11 15

The official bulletin then added

His heart's action became feebler and feebler and the heart muscle was so fatigued that it refused to act any longer. The end came peacefully

"The immediate cause of death was exhaustion following a digestive disturbance which began in the early part of last week, but did not reach an acute stage until the early morning hours of February 1"
